Rooted in Care: Grounded in Compassion Growing Together

When you think of the roots of a tree, or any plant, we know that the roots provide a source of stability, strength and nutrients. The roots of Belmont House go far back to 1852. Belmont House is rooted in compassion, excellence in care, and serving our community. We are firmly rooted in these values that support our mission, vision, and values which are guiding us into the future and helping us to continue to grow to meet the needs of our community.

2025 was an exciting and busy year as we focused on plans for the new building and enhancing our level of care through the expansion of the Butterfly Model of Care throughout our Home. To date we have trained staff on three care floors with plans to continue with the last two care floors in 2026. Our Focus Newsletters have highlighted our progress on this new model of care and have shown the excitement of our staff who are embracing the Butterfly model.

We are pleased to have received Accreditation with Exemplary status from Accreditation Canada. Belmont House was rated against 600+ standards and compared with other healthcare organizations across Canada. A special thank you to everyone who participated in demonstrating the excellent care we provide. Our satisfaction surveys continue to reflect a high level of satisfaction from our residents, tenants, and family members. We are committed to working with the Long-term Care Resident Council, the Retirement Tenant Council, and the Long-term Care Family Council to ensure that we meet the needs of the people that we care for and serve.

Our retirement tenants are active at Belmont House and in the Toronto community. Some of our recreation programs are led by our tenants, and they are always looking at what we can offer that is new and interesting. A group of tenants worked together to collect stories and published the second edition of the book titled "The Life That Was Ours". These stories are a celebration of lives well-lived.

Kathryn Ramsay,
Chair, Belmont House
Board of Directors

Maria Gallippi-Elias,
Chief Executive Officer

Our partnerships with colleges, universities, and other health care organizations continue to grow and enable us to provide the highest level of care and services based on research and best practices in the healthcare systems; along with helping to prepare future healthcare professionals.

The financial position of Belmont House in 2025 continued to be strong with a surplus. All surpluses are used for maintaining our buildings, equipment upgrades, and for future needs. A special thank you to the Belmont House Foundation for its continued support of nursing care, equipment, programs, and chaplaincy services.

As we look to the future, we recognize that we will need more specialized staff to support our growth. In 2025, Barbara Bell joined us in the position of Chief Operating Officer. In addition, we added an Assistant Director of Care to support nurse management activities and clinical education for our nursing team.

We would like to thank Ms. Elaine Roberts and Mr. Don Stewart for their commitment to Belmont House as they completed their term on the Belmont House Board of Directors. We also welcomed Ms. Katherine Carr and Dr. Haider Alvi to our Board of Directors.

Our accomplishments and our plans for the future would not be possible without the commitment and hard work of the Belmont House staff, volunteers, physicians, contracted services, management, the Belmont House Board of Directors, and the Belmont House Foundation.

We hope you enjoy reading our Annual Report and seeing our lively community.

Kathryn Ramsay,
Chair, Belmont House

A message from the Chair of the New Build Committee

Christopher Morgan,
Chair, Belmont House
New Build Committee

As the need for more long-term care beds continues in Ontario and especially in Toronto, we have continued our work by commencing construction on our new state of the art 11-storey building which will provide 168 long-term care beds and 32 assisted living beds on our current site.

This expansion on our current site has required many partners to make this project a reality. The Board of Directors, the New Build Committee, Belmont House management, and our architect Montgomery Sisam Architects worked with the Ministry of Long-Term Care, the City of Toronto, financial institutions, our neighbours, the Belmont House Foundation, and donors to make significant progress on this new building. We are grateful to the members of the New Build Committee who brought their expertise to the planning of this expansion.

In 2025, the new building received approval from the Ministry of Long-Term Care, and the City of Toronto which enabled us to move forward. We contracted with Graham Construction to build our new 11-storey building, and with the Royal Bank of Canada for our construction financing.

We engaged in a great deal of advocacy work with the Ministry of Long-Term Care to achieve a higher level of construction and operating funds which will ensure that we can build and operate the additional 168 long-term care beds. The new Ministry of Long-Term Care Construction Funding Program was announced in July 2025. Belmont House is still required to contribute financial resources to support the cost of construction, which will consist of investment funds from both Belmont House and Belmont House Foundation, along with the $30 million Care It Forward Capital Campaign donors.

Our current construction schedule anticipates an opening of the new building by the end of October 2028.

As we break ground in 2026, we are all excited to see the beginning of our bright future.

Belmont House Medical Director's Report

Dr. Bradley W.C. Birmingham,
Medical Director

At Belmont House, our guiding principle remains unchanged: we are not merely running a facility; we are nurturing a vibrant community. Our unwavering commitment is to ensure that Belmont feels like a true home, rather than an institution. This distinction is vital because a home is where individuality is honoured, relationships flourish, and every person feels safe, recognized, and valued. Whether we are providing direct clinical care, organizing social programs, or preparing meals, we are all working toward the singular goal of making Belmont House the very best home it can be.

We are currently entering an extraordinary period of growth. The construction of our new wing represents our strategic vision for the future, allowing us to serve even more residents and tenants who will benefit from our exemplary level of care. As we grow, we will continue to lead through innovation, such as our Butterfly Model of emotion-focused care. By grounding our expansion with our core principles, we ensure that as our physical footprint increases, our focus will remain on the human element of care, ensuring peace and dignity for all who live here.

Our residents and tenants live with increasingly complex medical, cognitive, and physical challenges, often requiring care that once necessitated hospital or chronic care settings. To meet these needs within the comfort of their home, we are fortunate to have a dedicated primary care team of four physicians - Dr. Lauren Gewurz, Dr. Silvy Mathew, Dr. Sara Wainberg, and myself - complemented by an impressive array of on-site specialized services including dental, vision, foot care, and psycho-geriatric support.

Furthermore, we provide essential diagnostic and therapeutic interventions such as wound care, diagnostic imaging, pharmacy support, and specialized assessments for swallowing, seating, and mobility, all of which allow us to bring high-quality care directly to our community. Recognizing that this is the final home for many, we strive to provide exemplary palliative and end-of-life care, with the additional expertise of the physicians of the Temmy Latner Centre for Palliative Care.

We welcomed 45 new residents to our Long-term Care home in 2025. There were 46 resident deaths. As of December 31, 2025, there were 20 male and 119 female residents. The age of residents ranged from 63 to 105, the average being 86 years.

We also welcomed 23 new tenants to our retirement home in 2025. There were 9 tenant deaths and 4 transfers to our Long-term Care home. As of December 31, 2025, there were 21 male and 61 female tenants. The age of tenants ranged from 69 to 102, the average being 90 years.

As an avid sports fan, I like to see our work as a team effort that mirrors the spirit of our beloved Toronto Blue Jays, who showed us in 2025 exactly what can be achieved when every player executes their role at the highest level. Just as a high-performing team requires seamless coordination and trust, our care at Belmont depends on the synergy between our personal support workers, registered nurses, practical nurses, activation staff, therapists, dietary teams, housekeeping, administration, social work, and clergy. We are also grateful for our volunteers and family members, valuable members of our team roster. To everyone who contributes to the "Belmont Difference" I say thank you for helping us provide a home where our residents and tenants can live with resilience and grace.

Respectfully submitted,
Bradley W.C. Birmingham B.Sc., M.D.,

Belmont House Foundation Report

Jim Christie,
Chair, Belmont House
Foundation Board of Directors

This past year has been one of both momentum and meaning for the Belmont House Foundation. Guided by our theme, Rooted in Care, we have seen how deeply our community believes in our mission—and how that belief continues to grow.

Our annual campaign remains the steady foundation of our work. In 2025, our community gave just over $800,000. These gifts—thoughtful, consistent, and deeply personal—ensure that residents and tenants experience the highest quality of care, comfort, and dignity every day. From enhancements to programming and equipment to supporting frontline staff, annual donors are truly rooted in the ongoing life of our community. Their generosity reminds us that excellence in care is not a one-time investment, but a continuous commitment.

At the same time, our Care It Forward capital campaign has reached inspiring new heights. As of December 31, 2025, we have raised $23 million of our $30 million goal. This ambitious effort is transforming our campus and reimagining what senior care can look like for generations to come. Thanks to the extraordinary leadership of our campaign volunteers and the vision of our donors, we are building more than just a bricks and mortar structure—we are creating a lasting legacy of compassion, innovation, and connection.

What has been most remarkable is how these two efforts—annual and capital—work hand in hand. One sustains the care we provide today, while the other ensures we can meet the needs of tomorrow. Together, they reflect a community that is not only generous, but deeply invested in the future of senior care.

Belmont House Foundation Board of Directors

In 2025, the Belmont House Foundation funded many projects around our home. These included new ceiling lifts, an upgraded security camera system, a new bathtub on 2East, information technology upgrades, the Butterfly Model of Care implementation, art and music therapy, pastoral care, and much more. In total, the Belmont House Foundation granted over $2,400,000 to Belmont House.

During 2025, we welcomed Mr. Michael Missaghie and Ms. Barbara Track to the Belmont House Foundation Board of Directors. We would like to thank the following board members who retired in 2025 for their dedication and commitment to the Belmont House community; Ms. Kimberley Enns, Mr. David Hackett, Ms. Barbara Hyland and Mr. Peter Salloum.

On behalf of the Foundation Board, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to every donor, volunteer, and partner who has contributed to this journey. Your support is what allows our mission to thrive and grow.

As we look ahead, we remain committed to nurturing these roots—strengthening relationships, expanding our impact, and ensuring that care remains at the heart of all we do.

With deep gratitude for your continued trust and partnership,

Jim Christie

Rooted in Community

At the heart of everything we do is a deep and enduring connection to community. “Rooted in Care” is not only a reflection of the compassion within our walls—it is a celebration of the relationships that extend far beyond them. Every smile shared, every hand held, and every moment of connection captured in these pages reflects a vibrant network of residents, tenants, families, staff, volunteers, and donors who bring our community to life each day.

These photos tell a story words alone cannot fully express. They capture the warmth of intergenerational programs, the joy of shared celebrations, and the meaningful moments that define a sense of belonging. Whether through music, art, conversation, or simple companionship, our community continues to grow stronger through the connections we nurture together.

Rooted in Community

Tenants and residents at Belmont House have searched through their memories—and their photo albums—to create a brand-new book of stories to follow the first edition published in 1985.

Titled The Life That Was Ours, the new volume is a heartfelt collection from over 50 Belmont tenants and residents of personal stories, reflections, and poems that span over a half century of lived experiences. From tales of wartime courage to joyful childhood antics and adventures of family life, the book captures the essence of a generation that continues to inspire and speaks to the lasting value of social history.
