

WHAT MATTERS MOST

ANNUAL REPORT 2020

BELMONT
HOUSE
Est. 1852

A message from the Belmont House Board Chair and Chief Executive Officer

Elaine Roberts,
Chair, Board of Directors

Maria Elias,
Chief Executive Officer

In times of crisis, we need to move quickly to protect and secure “what matters most” to us. The COVID-19 pandemic which was declared by the World Health Organization in March, 2020 resulted in an international focus to ensure the health and safety of people in every nation.

Belmont House was established in 1852 in Toronto, and has been through many historical moments throughout its 168 years. In our archives, we hold many stories, including those of World War I, the Spanish Flu pandemic of 1918, the Depression of the 1920’s, World War II, and the SARS Pandemic. Through all these crises, Belmont House has remained resilient and committed to the people we serve.

The COVID-19 pandemic, has challenged us in many ways, but the health and safety of everyone who lives and works at Belmont House has remained paramount. We have been blessed through these challenging times, by the quick and effective response of our dedicated staff, volunteers, physicians, and board members that ensured everyone’s safety.

In this annual report we document our journey in 2020 and the challenges it brought. We also reflect on the many ways that we were able to continue to provide the highest level of care and ensure a quality of life to everyone living at Belmont House.

One of the successes in 2020 was the development of vaccines against the COVID-19 virus. By mid December, Belmont House employees began receiving their first dose of the Pfizer BioNtech Vaccine. On December 31, 2020 our retirement home tenants were chosen to be the first in Toronto to receive first doses of the Moderna Vaccine – right here at Belmont House. In the first week of January, 2021, our Long-term Care Residents received their first dose of the vaccine, and soon our essential caregivers, including family members followed. The vaccination rollout at Belmont House was successful, and we continue to be proud that none of our long-term care residents or retirement tenants have contracted COVID-19. Belmont House is considered a leader in long-term care and retirement living and was asked twice to present to the Long-term Care Commission which was conducting a review of the causes which resulted in the many deaths of seniors in long-term care homes in Ontario.

In spite of the all-consuming pandemic, we were committed to continuing with many planned projects. We began preliminary work on the implementation of a new model of care, The Butterfly Model of Care, which provides an emotion-centred approach to providing care and services to long-term care residents. Full implementation is scheduled for 2021. We also embarked on a review of our current technology with plans to make improvements in 2021. Our annual satisfaction surveys reveal that our long-term care residents, retirement tenants, and their families feel extremely positive about the care and services received. We continue to work with staff, residents, tenants, and families to ensure a diverse and rich recreational program to maintain a quality of life.

Through the financial support of the provincial government and donations from our community, we were able to ensure that we had a good supply of personal protective equipment and adequate nursing staff. Our financial position for 2020 was sound, generating a small surplus which will help with future programs and building enhancements. Belmont’s operating budget was $19 million, with just over $1 million going towards ensuring a safe home during this pandemic. In addition to added expenses for COVID-19, we spent $1.5 million more than what we received from the MOLTC, long-term care residents, and retirement tenants to provide for the care Belmont seniors require. This difference was covered through additional funding sources such as bequests, and grants from the Belmont House Foundation.

A message from the Belmont House Board Chair and Chief Executive Officer

We would like to thank Mary Kardos Burton, who retired from the Belmont House Board of Directors in 2020, for her significant contribution. We are pleased to welcome to the Board of Directors Christopher Morgan, Wynne de Jong, Michael Heffer, Diane McArthur, Kathryn Ramsay, and Valerie Pringle.

We would also like to thank the Belmont House Foundation and our generous donors who ensured that we always had the necessary equipment, supplies, and staff to support our pandemic efforts.

At the time of writing this report, the pandemic has continued into 2021, and we are now going through Wave 3 with an increase in COVID-19 positive cases in Ontario. The Greater Toronto Area has been significantly affected by a surge of people testing positive for the COVID-19 virus, and intensive care beds in hospitals are at maximum capacity. The provincial government continues to deal with this pandemic through various measures which include the closing of businesses, and schools. The provincial government has recognized the need for additional financial resources for the long-term care sector and has continued to provide dedicated funding for COVID-19 precautions.

At Belmont House, our goal is to provide quality care in a safe home, while supporting every individual's independence, safety, dignity, and privacy. Our numerous partnerships, dedicated staff, physicians, volunteers, Board of Directors, and Foundation, together with our commitment to continuously improve, help us meet the needs of our residents and tenants, as we prepare for the future.

Belmont House Medical Director's Report

As I write this, we are in the midst of Ontario's third wave of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Prior to 2020, few laypeople were aware of what the term "pandemic" meant, let alone terms such as Personal Protective Equipment, N95 respirators, NP swabs and Rapid Antigen tests. "Flattening the curve" and "Variants of Concern" were meaningless phrases to most. Now, unfortunately, we are all too familiar with the lexicon of a pandemic.

We are also well aware that, though this pandemic has affected all of us greatly, no group has suffered more than those living in Long Term Care. Prior reports and requests highlighting the need for improved support for LTC may have been ignored, but the pandemic has made it abundantly clear that this cannot be allowed to continue.

Belmont House's strengths were apparent in 2020. We have a very strong Infection Prevention and Control program, and were able to independently implement and maintain significant measures to reduce the risk of virus transmission. Through tremendous effort, and good fortune, our LTC residents and retirement tenants remained safe from COVID-19, despite the high rates of community transmission around us. Our success to this point is the result of many factors, but a major one has been the cultivation over many years of our Belmont House team culture, which features respect for, and pride in, our incredible staff.

Of course, being spared from COVID-19 does not spare one from their ongoing and unrelated health issues. In 2020, 40 of our LTC residents died, as did 9 retirement tenants. This is quite comparable to recent years prior to the pandemic. Newly welcomed LTC residents ranged in age from 70 to 103 years, averaging 88. New retirement tenants' ages ranged from 73 to 100, averaging 89 years.

After the most challenging year imaginable, we presently find ourselves in a better position. The benefit of vaccination for our population has been nothing short of spectacular. We have not let down our guard, but we look forward to a return to increasingly normal life here. We are also able to take a moment and reflect on what truly matters most.

Dr. Bradley W.C. Birmingham,
Medical Director

For our residents and tenants, their home must be a place they feel safe, secure. A place where they are safely able to enjoy activities, outings, and visits from family and friends. The elements that make Belmont House a true home were severely threatened in 2020. In order to minimize the likelihood of the SARS-CoV-2 virus entering, severe restrictions were put in place. Rising to meet the challenge, our staff maximized safe activities, family interactions, and quality of life for those who live here. We also very actively supported the return of our essential caregivers, whose number far exceeds that of most LTC and retirement homes. One of our highlights was providing vaccination clinics for our essential caregivers, on-site at Belmont House.

We have not forgotten what matters most at Belmont House. And our society has no acceptable option other than to ensure that the LTC sector has the proper standards, the support, and the resources that are needed to provide homes for their residents.

In closing, I would once again like to thank everyone who helps in making Belmont House a true home for our residents and tenants.

Respectfully,
Bradley Birmingham M.D.

Belmont House Foundation Report

Through the many challenges of 2020, Belmont House Foundation has been proud to remain committed to helping provide the absolute best possible life for Residents and Tenants.

In a year that caught us all by surprise, our incredible family of donors truly lifted us up. Gifts began pouring in to help keep everyone who lives and works at Belmont House safe. We received hundreds of both medical and hand sewn face masks. Local businesses gifted face shields, hand sanitizer, and meals for staff. When Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) was difficult to find, our community kept us going.

The financial support our community provided was so pivotal to our success in fighting this virus. With monetary gifts arriving just days after the pandemic was declared, Belmont House was able to purchase enough PPE to keep all our loved ones safe and the Foundation granted additional funds to aid in the continuing effort against COVID-19. Ending the 2020 fiscal year with over $900,000 raised, we can celebrate one of our most successful fundraising years in the 28 years of The Belmont House Foundation's history.

We were also thrilled to install a new digital donor wall at Belmont House this year, allowing for quick and impactful recognition of donor generosity.

I want to offer my deep and sincere gratitude to everyone who has partnered with us through the past year. Your generosity has made so much possible and has truly meant the world to us. Your donations allowed staff to continue with higher levels of education, made outdoor visits a safe and happy space for families, and provided the means for essential equipment and capital upgrades that did not stop for the pandemic including an upgrade of the building's heating and cooling system, new dishware for meal-times and several brand new therapeutic surface mattress. You are the heroes of 2020.

Ann Katrusiak,
Chair, Belmont House Foundation

As my time as Chair of the Belmont House Board of Directors ends in June of 2021, I want to say that I have been so blessed to be a part of this community, both as a Board member and as a daughter of a Resident. I have had the great privilege of seeing the work of Belmont House from multiple sides and feel so lucky to be a part of it. I look forward to continuing to serve on the Foundation Board of Directors and remaining an active member of our community.

I have also been asked to pass on a big thank you to everyone who sent words of encouragement to the staff at Belmont House. Knowing the large group of people that stood behind in support, kept everyone going. Your support means more than we can express.

With gratitude,
Ann Katrusiak
